Detailed Action

The 112, first paragraph rejection of claims 1-9, 11-16, 22 on page 2 of the office action mailed 8/11/06 is rendered moot in light of applicant's amendment filed 10/12/2006.

(new rejection)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains.

Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 4, 6, 8-9, 13, 14, 15, 17-21 are rejected under 35 U. S. C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moloney et. al. (See Reference N). Moloney teaches the compound of formula I wherein A1 is a substituted 2-pyridyl, A2 is optionally substituted phenyl, L is –(C=O)-, R1 is hydrogen, and A2 is phenyl which can have up to five substituents. Moloney also teaches specific species such as compounds 1, 3, 12 and 17 which are obvious over the compound in line 2 of claim 21, page 7. (See page 15). See lines 5-30 on page 1 for the prior art genus.

The difference between the prior art compound and the instantly claimed compound is the alkylene group between the pyridyl group and the benzamide moiety. In the instant compound, alkylene group is ethylene. In the prior art compound, alkylene group is a methylene group. The prior art compound and the instant compound are homologues of each other. Homologues are compounds that differ by a methylene linkage. Here, the Moloney compounds are also fungicides as are the instant compounds. See line 4 of page 2.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to synthesize homologues of this class of compounds and compositions. Accordingly, the compounds are deemed unpatentable therefrom in the absence of a showing of unexpected results for the claimed compounds over those of the generic prior art compounds.

Claims 12, 16, 22 are objected to because they are based on a rejected claim.
